

ASAA FEBRUARY CONNECTIONS

FSLW UPDATE

Hello, ASAA families! February is here, and it's time to give ourselves a little extra love and care. Let's make sure to take a breather and appreciate the amazing individuals we are. Whether it's a living room dance party, a family game night, or simply enjoying a good book, let's dedicate some special moments to self-love. Remember, you're all superheroes in the making, and nurturing your own superpowers is key. Here's to embracing each day with a heart full of positivity and self-appreciation!

BOOK OF THE MONTH

Celebrate Black History Month with the engaging book "Sulwe," by Lupita Nyong'o. This beautifully crafted story promotes self-acceptance and diversity. As we explore Sulwe's journey, let's use this tale to spark conversations about resilience, acceptance, and the richness of Black history and culture. In our school community, "Sulwe" serves as a valuable resource, reminding us that true beauty comes from within.

1. Discuss with your child how we can all shine our light.
2. Please see attached activity!
